Health and Safety Policy Statement

It is the policy of Paramount Panels (UK) to treat Health & Safety equally importantly as quality, profitability and meeting production targets. The Company recognises that safety needs to be managed in a similar manner to other key activities.

The General Manager accepts overall responsibility, but on an operating level the Production Manager will ensure that the Company meet its legal requirements and encourage a positive companywide attitude towards safety, health and welfare.

All managers and supervisors have a duty to ensure that the functions they are controlling are managed safely on a day to day basis. The help of all employees in improving safety within the Company is encouraged and their attention is drawn to their own legal responsibilities: to take reasonable care of themselves and other persons as regards their acts and omissions, to co-operate with the employers as far as is necessary to comply with relevant statutory provisions and not to misuse anything provided in the interests of safety.

The Company expects, in the event of an employee seeing any situation that they consider to be immediately or potentially dangerous, that they report it to their Manager or Supervisor at once.

The Company will continue to monitor its safety performance and that of its employees and will report its findings to all employees.

This policy statement will be reviewed when any major changes in personnel, products, processing methods, physical location or legislation take place or at an interval not greater than two years.
